D3: JP 2001/320754 A
D4: JP 63 026 129 A
D5: US 6 640 115 B1

D1 teaches a diversity communication system. Document D1 is considered to represent the most relevant document. A base station sends a control signal to each mobile station while selecting any of N-sets of base station antennas through the use of a control slot. While receiving a control sent from the base station for a control slot period, a monitor station (16) monitors an antenna identification signal. A quality discrimination circuit (36) discriminates the reception quality such as reception electric field strength and stores the results to an antenna quality storage circuit (33). The subject matter in Claim 1 of the present application shows e.g. a message parser, a database information database and a result modifier. These technical features are not shown in D1. Therefore the present application shows a favourable improvement in respect of the prior art.
